NEWS/GH

20th February 2021

SO PROUD : the SHARING ASSEMBLY items continue to roll in....please be patient if I don't share any particular item straight away....there are so many that sometimes it may be a week or so after the work was originally sent to me.

Whenever schools reopen, I think -due to the superb efforts of kids and parents with their Hone Learning- many of our children will be ready for the next round of assessments on their progress in the Basic Skills or reading, writing and number.....the Sharing Assembly work shows marvellous attitude and determination from families.

Here are more super examples:-

Y3 Linnets. - Eva O  . Pixie T  Annabelle S  .
Super development of their writing, sentence structure, good choice of words etc.
Well done children....very impressive.

Eva O

Dear Child of 2030,

Hello, my name is Eva and I am 8 years old. I want to tell you all about my experience of the year 2020. I want to describe it to you month by month. What an interesting year it was!

January 2020

January was a wet, cold and miserable month but we don't need to worry about that. New Year's Day was so fun there were fireworks, sparklers and all sorts of things. That was the best time of my life! I wish I could go back to that day but New Year means a new day, a new week, a new month and a new life!

February 2020

In February I went on a dashing holiday to Lego Land with my family. I stayed in a hotel called The Hilton Hotel where they gave us free cookies upon entry, they weren't very nice but my Mummy loved them so much, she even ate mine! There was a red and silver racing car with huge shiny wheels in the reception area of the hotel. The hotel was SO BIG I thought it was 100 houses stuck together. Now I'm going to tell you about some of the rides that I went on at Lego Land. There was a tall green ride that goes up and straight down, the green was the shade of an emerald. There was a horse ride that I went on with my Mummy because I was too scared to go on by myself. At the end of the horse ride I nearly started to cry but I stopped myself by taking some deep breaths and closing my eyes to think about happy thoughts. It was getting late, so we all headed back to the hotel to relax.

When I woke up on a island with my teddy bear, I looked down and I was only wearing one shoe. As the sun came down I looked around me and found a pink pair of sunglasses which I put on to stop the sun from shining in my eyes. Then I had a look around the island and I found a plastic bucket which I collected some fresh water in. I also found a butter knife which I used to cut down some bananas that I found in a banana tree. When you start to cut it off a monkey had stolen it off me. After a while I decided I needed to find some proper food to eat. I went to the beach and took with me a pan which was washed up on the beach from the ship wreck. Slowly I walked into the water with my pan in my hand. When all of a sudden a huge snake jumped into the pan. I didn't believe my luck. Then I went back to the shore to make a fire with two sticks that was lying on the ground.

Dear 2030 child,
 In 2020 things didn't go to plan. Firstly, in January and February it was fine. In January I went to rebrand trampolining and my swimming lessons started. In February I went to Flamingo Land with my friends.
 The start of March also started ok. Did I forget to mention it was my birthday but then without a warning covid 19 started so everyone had to stay inside. We were only allowed out for 1 walk a day and had to wear masks to go into shops.
 In April I had an Easter egg hunt and it was my grandad's birthday so we facelined him and blew a candle out through the phone. Still in lockdown and in May we did some birthday drop offs for my 2 Auntie's.
 In June I got super excited because lockdown ended so I went out with my friends and had lots of fun.

Y5 Eagles - Great photos of these children ( names are on the photos) designing their own experiments at home and at school. Looks really interesting...well done all you Y5 scientists! Medals for each of you.

Logan S: Straw experiment.

Teagan H: Stars Investigation

I am going to test if you can use a telescope and try to see the stars during daytime. My independent variable will be change the time of day and my dependent variable will be to see if I can see them. I will set up my telescope and I will try to see the stars.

Jack C: Stars Predictions

I think stars go around the Earth's orbit because the sun shines so bright it stops us seeing the stars. I believe the stars do go down when the Sun is out, but not sure if they actually still stay there, and we just don't see them, but when the moonlight is out it reflects them.

Dylan: Shaving Foam Cloud Investigation

The test is called the shaving foam cloud test. It tests how food colouring soaks through foam. I predict that the foam will turn blue. The independent variable is the amount for foam used and the dependent variable is how the blue dye soaks through the foam. My method was to fill the glass half-way with water, then squirt foam on the top, next I dripped food colouring on to the foam.

Y3 Wrens - Layla E

Layla E's draft letter that she wrote recently following the work with our 'virtual' author Layla worked really hard on this at home. The skill with any kind of writing is to first show determination in completing the first draft...then repeat but by looking to improve punctuation, spellings etc. This effort from Layla is part of that process and shows her fantastic attitude in developing her writing skills.

Super Layla....Well done

Jennifer- Reception Ospreys

Chinese New Year poster. Super work at home...just look at that concentration. Well done, Jennifer.

Y5 Hummingbirds -

Harry S...

. Megan K.

. Hayley K

Super duper work.

Harry and Megan for some great Grammar work ( see photos) Well Done Harry and Meg ( I wonder if the famous Royals - Harry and Meg - can do such good Grammar work!?)

Hayley - no photo, but brilliant comments from her classteacher telling me how hard she is working in all subjects at home. Very determined to give her best at all times. Well Done, H ayley
