

The Easter Bunny and the Naughty Chick—by Miss Harrison & Lily Phillips

Once upon a time there was an Easter Bunny and a very Naughty Chick.

One night while the Easter Bunny slept, the Naughty Chick crept into her house and stole all of the Easter Eggs!

The next day when the Easter Bunny went to deliver the eggs to the children she had nothing to give them. The children were very upset and began to cry.

The Naughty Chick saw how upset the children were and decided that the right thing to do would be to share the eggs out. The Easter Bunny and the Naughty Chick even got a couple too!
