

Mix up Disco

At night when you've gone home, there's a pumping, jumping, funky party in your classroom. The blue and yellow group are the show offs, they really love to rap. The green group are cheeky, and they make the others laugh.

So shake it like a mango and party like a pear and dance like you don't care.

It's called the mix up disco and everyone's invited, so shake your hips and bounce and scream and jump about.

The reds and pink are such a silly bunch, they boogie in the conga and when the line gets longer and longer, it's such a big conga

So shake it like a mango and party like a pear and dance like you don't care.

At breakfast time the party starts to slow, the groups must go to school..

So if you're in the classroom, and you hear a funny song, don't be shy come and sing along
